EDITOR’S NOTE

Dear Fellow Believers in Christ,

While India is a pluralistic society with a long standing commitment to inclusion and tolerance, yet there is a significant escalation of crime perpetrated against the Christian minorities in various parts of India now. It is now an almost regular feature where Church burning, demolition of Church building, desecration of Christian worship places in various parts of the country can be seen. Also there are several instances where people are persecuted, beaten, boycotted and even murdered because of their Christian faith.

Tribulation is something that comes from men who are instigated by satan against the church. God is still God! He is Sovereign and in control of all creation/God’s promises us that, “No weapon that is formed against you shall prosper; and every tongue that accuses you in judgment you will condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord. “ And their vindication is from Me.” (Isa.54:17).

We must never be afraid of being slandered, for Jesus Himself was maltreated. He was called a gluttonous man, a false teacher, a blasphemer, an insane man, a demon-possessed man, a half-breed and one who had satanic power !. The Lord Himself will vindicate us at the right time. Until such time, we must keep quiet and ignore what ungodly people say about us.

The way you react to people who do evil to you could trigger a reaction in someone watching you that could result in his salvation. Paul was just the first of many thousands who have been converted in the past 2000 years by seeing the godly reaction of Christians to persecution. But to react like that, we must be filled with the Holy Spirit.

May God bless India and grant our leaders with what wisdom & knowledge

Shibu Thomas
Minister of Jesus Christ

Handicapped Pastor Imprisoned

20 months ago, Pastor Ageswar met with a tragic accident, when he fell from a 4-storey building/landing on the hard pavement below. Death would not have been surprising! Although he survived the fall, barely able to breathe, his injuries were pretty significant and there was no hope for complete recovery. With both legs broken, wheelchair bound, his life ahead looked hopeless and wretched.

Abandoned by his wife, filled with despondency, he attempted to take his life unsuccessfully.

Everything changed when his cousin sister visited and shared the gospel of Jesus Christ. Hearing about Jesus for the first time, about how He can transform lives, this Hindu by birth, prayed for the first time in his adult life. As he now unshakably believes, God does listen to heartfelt prayers, and miracles do happen.

Trust in this Jesus Christ for all the plans and purposes of his future, today. Pastor Ageswar is shepherding a Church of over 4000 believers, who meet to worship every Wednesday and Sunday. As the Church is growing, religious fundamentalists started putting pressure on the local police to stop the meetings. With already several confrontations with the police and as much public pressure, on Wednesday, 25th January, around noon time, a group of armed Policemen, forced entry into his house, and took this wheelchair bound Pastor into custody. This was a premeditated plan knowing fully well that Thursday, 26th January, Republic Day, all government agencies would be shut – that there would be no recourse to apply for bail.

Pastor refused to succumb to pressure and is not fearful at all; as such is his passion and dedication towards Jesus Christ. Charged with the false allegation that he was preaching to convert people to Christianity, Pastor Ageswar was detained 8 days! The congregation of new believers are like scattered sheep without a shepherd. Pastor stands firm in faith stating that he was only exercising his fundamental rights.

Church, though it appears that Pastor Ageswar’s ministry is greatly restricted, God will finish what He has started. God is able to fulfill His work and the salvation of His people in this village, to preserve and prosper His Church.

Let us not despair but fast and pray that God would use this present adversity and use Pastor, Ageswar mightily, like Apostle Paul, to preach His word to the broken-hearted and down trodden.

An AK-47-Toting Terrorist Turns To Jesus Christ

An AK-47 in Hand

Hanan told Samuel that in Syria, she had been a member of Jabat al-Nursra, now known as Jabhat Fateh al-Sham. The group had been the al-Qaeda affiliate in Syria and is one of the major Islamist rebel groups fighting against the Syrian government. Hanan was also a nurse. "I would care for their wounds," said Hanan of her fellow jihadis, "and carry an AK-47 in the other hand."

For the Sunni-background woman, the Islamist group were freedom fighters warring against an unjust government, and she wanted to play her part. But her relationship with Jesus was slowly transforming her heart as she learned more about the true peace and freedom that God offers through Jesus.

Samuel met with her every few weeks for more than a year before Hanan suddenly disappeared. "I do not know the status of her faith, whether she is still walking with the Lord or not," said Samuel. She had told Samuel that she was hoping to return to Syria, but the refugees often leave suddenly when an opportunity for work or housing comes up or when they are granted a visa to another country.

"It makes us sad to lose them, but happy that they take the Gospel with them, and that’s what we see God doing. These refugees meet the Lord, and they are taking the Gospel with them as they travel to Europe or a different part of the world," said Samuel.

Understanding The Power in The Name Of Jesus

-NewsDepth

The name of Jesus is so powerful that ignorance and surrendering to the name of God’s blessings and fulfillment in life. The enemy will do anything to keep man in the dark so that he can continue to oppress him. The truth is that the power in the name of Jesus brings deliverance from all oppressions of the devil and delivers dominion to mankind.

Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved—Acts 4:12 (KJV).

And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. Acts 3:16 (KJV)

God understanding the power of names carefully chose the name of Jesus to reflect His purpose while on earth and after resurrection. The name of means saviour

Salvation means Deliverance from sin and its consequences. Preservation or deliverance from harm, ruin, or loss. Therefore, there is no deliverance from sin and its consequences nor preservation or deliverance from harm, ruin, or loss except through the name of Jesus. For you to enjoy the benefits, including healing in the name of Jesus you need to understand the power in the name.

Therefore what to know about the name Jesus:

1. His name gives us our identity
   “... And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.” Acts 11:28

As a Christian, you are identified with God because you believe in the name of Jesus and are expected to live like Him.

2. Jesus’ name is above every other name.

Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Philippians 2:9-11 (KJV)

The name of Jesus is above the name of any sickness or disease or situation. Whatever has a name is below the name of Jesus and must give way to it, no matter where it may come from: heaven, earth or hell.

3. Only through His name can you get anything from God.

And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you. John 16:23-24 (KJV)

God has designed it that after the death and resurrection of Jesus, no man can relate with Him for any reason whatsoever except through Jesus. He is now the gateway to God and His blessings: you can only go in and get your blessings, including healing through Him.

4. Everything Jesus is and carries is in His name.

And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; and they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover—Mark 16:17-18 (KJV)

Whatever Jesus can do, the power in the name will do it when you use it. Whatever God can do you can do in the name of Jesus. You can say—let there be in Jesus name and there will be. We exercise our God-given authority only in the name of Jesus.

World Renowned Worship Artist Credits Psalm 91 for “Miraculous” Cancer Healing

News Staff: Jan 30, 2017: CBN News “The medical world doesn’t like to use the word ‘healed’... but I’m believing God’s report over my life. I speak Psalm 91 over myself every day; I take my medicine and I take the Word of God, and I do my best with what I can do in the natural and trust God with those things over which I have no power.”

Darlene Zschech

(New York, NY)—CBN News’ Worship singer Darlene Zschech is behind some of America’s most widely-sung worship songs, including: “Victor’s Crown,” “In Jesus’ Name,” “Worthy Is the Lamb,” “At the Cross” and the global anthem “Shout to the Lord.” (Photo via CCU TV)

Now, she is set to release a live DVD/CD album entitled “Here Am I Sand Me,” a project that was born out of one of the darkest struggles of her life—her battle with cancer.

The album opens with “You Are Great,” a powerful declaration of the greatness of God written with Martin Smith.

“When I was at my sickest, Martin flew over from England to sit with us, sing songs over our church and walk with my husband and put courage in,” Darlene told Charisma News, recalling the dark days after her unexpected diagnosis of breast cancer: “It’s Week One of treatment and you think you’re going to die, and Martin said, ‘Darls, I know you’re going to want to write songs about this season. What do you want to say?’ And I said, ‘I want to say ‘He is great!’ And so we wrote this song together,” she said.

“That’s where it started... In the midst of the fire, it doesn’t change who He is.”

That one song turned into an entire album and eventually, a “miraculous healing.”

“The medical world doesn’t like to use the word ‘healed.’ They like to say the word ‘remission,’” she said. “But I’m believing God’s report over my life. I speak Psalm 91 over myself every day; I take my medicine and I take the Word of God, and I do my best with what I can do in the natural and trust God with those things over which I have no power.”

The main message of the album is to worship God with your whole life, no matter how long, short, painful, or joyous it may be.

“None of us know how many days we have,” says Zschech. “Whatever days I have—and I’m declaring a ripe old age—I want to live them intentionally. I want to live the love of Christ.”

Integrity Music will release the highly anticipated album on March 3rd. It was recorded with her team at Hope Unlimited Church in Australia and features nearly a dozen songs penned by the likes of Paul Baloche, Jenn Johnson and Leeland Mooring. While Zschech may have defeated cancer, she says (she) still has a lot to learn on her journey towards understanding God’s love.

Entry for women in Maramon convention's night sessions sought

Published on: 4:03 pm, February 6, 2017 by: mattersindia.com

Kottayam, Kerala: While the Supreme Court is considering cases on the entry of women into the famed Sabarimala temple, a group in the Syrian Mar Thoma Church has demanded its leadership to allow the entry of women to the famed Maramon convention’s night sessions.

This new demand comes on the eve of the week long 122nd edition of what is billed as Asia’s biggest Christian convention, beginning at Maramon, near here on February 12.

This convention over the years has become the flagship programme of the Thiruvalla headquartered Mar Thoma Syrian Church of Malabar, which claims to have a following of a million. The convention, under the aegis of the Mar Thoma Evangelistic Association, is held at Maramon on the river bed of Pamba and while women attend the day’s sessions, they are not permitted in the night sessions due to security reasons.

Shiju Alex, a committee member of Association who is also part of the ‘Naveek Vedi’ that has been in existence for over a quarter century but does not have the approval of the Church, raised the issue at Maramon on Friday to highlight their demand.

The Mar Thoma Church defines itself as apostolic in origin, universal in nature, biblical in faith, evangelical in principle, ecumenical in outlook, oriental in worship, democratic in function, and episcopal in character, has been able to make inroads in the education sector and runs numerous educational institutions.

The origin and growth of this annual get together for a week can be traced to the great revival movement which gathered momentum along with the reformation in the ancient Syrian Church of Malabar under the leadership of Abraham Malpan.

One of the uniqueness of the convention is that this held under a temporary covered shed made out of coconut leaves, which was not taken up, as women have never been allowed to the night sessions. Speaking to IANS, Alex said they have been raising this issue for a while now but it has not yielded the desired results and at their Vedi meeting on Sunday, decided a series of things to do.

“We will be meeting the Supreme Head of the Church with this demand and it will be done tomorrow or day after, depending the appointment that is given to us. We have already mailed him our demand. Even as we meet the Supreme Head, we will be approaching the Kerala State Women’s Commission and also the judiciary,” said Alex.

The Vedi is organising a public meeting at Maramon on Friday to highlight their demand.

The Mar Thoma Church itself is a millennium old, claims to be the fifth church in the world and the third church in the East

Catholics not out to convert Hindus, Cardinal Gracias says

Saji Thomas, Bhopal India

January 31, 2017

The pope’s role in appointing Catholic bishops is not an interference by the Vatican in the internal affairs of a country, said Cardinal Oswald Gracias, president of the Federation of Asian Bishops’ Conferences.

The cardinal, also head of the Conference of Catholic Bishops of India, was responding to a question during a press conference in Bhopal on Jan. 30 ahead of the conference’s plenary meeting in this central Indian city.

“There is no such thing,” he said, reacting to a question asking if the pope appointing bishops in India could be an interference by the Vatican. The Indian cardinal who heads Bombay Archdiocese is among nine cardinals Pope Francis assigned to help reform the Roman Curia and the administration of the Catholic Church.

Young Prostitutes in India Finding Hope and Freedom in the Gospel

Veronica Neffinger | Editor, ChristianHeadlines.com | Thursday, September 15, 2016

Many young Indian girls are sold into prostitution to support their families, but some are finding hope and freedom in Christ.

According to ChristianToday.com, some girls who are sold into prostitution are as young as four years old.

One such girl is Tehmina. Her family forced her to become a temple prostitute to earn money. “Her father was taking her by the hand at midnight looking for customers, and then during the day her mother would take her on the streets,” an independent ministry leader tells Christian Aid Mission (CAM). “By her earnings, the whole family would be taken care of.”

Thankfully, Tehmina’s mother came to faith and shared God’s love with her daughter. Her mother entrusted Tehmina to Christian Aid Mission so she was able to go to school.

Eleven years have passed since then, and now Tehmina has returned home to care for her mother and to continue her education. Sadly, Tehmina’s dismal start to life is fairly common in India where many families live in abject poverty.

Nigeria: Pastor Remains Strong in Faith Despite Boko Haram Burning Down Church

Veronica Neffenger | Editor, Christian Headlines.com | Wednesday, January 11, 2017

A Nigerian pastor who has suffered many trials due to terrorist group Boko Haram continues to have unwavering faith.

ChristianToday.com reports that the church of Pastor Aminu Sule from the village of Dematuru in Yobe State, Nigeria, was bombed and destroyed by Boko Haram in 2011. Many Christians in the region fled the persecution, but Sule felt called to stay.

“Many people left Dematuru because of the levels of persecution, but I said no—I cannot leave my church. I am supposed to be the last person to close the church; if it is necessary,” he said. “I cannot leave my church because I am the pastor. In the Bible, it says ‘The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.’ If I run away and leave my congregation, what will I say to them?”

Sule felt called to stay.

Three other Christian families decided to stay with Sule and his family. Sule’s two sons were very scared in the wake of the attack. They couldn’t eat for days because of their fear.

The heart of the church is made up of beautiful and powerful, “the greatest strength today,” the pope said.

While big church events that draw a lot of people and are a big success are “materialistic and killed by the sword” in order to destroy the church, the pope said.

“Many people who suffered and gave their life like Jesus, who were ‘stoned, tortured and killed by the sword’ in order to destroy the church,” the pope said recently. (Photo: IANS)

A year before (on Jan 8, 2016), a Swiss missionary was kidnapped in Timbuktu, also in northern Mali. Beatrice Stockly was taken from her residence before dawn, by armed men who arrived in four pickup trucks. It is thought that Stockly’s abduction was the first of a foreigner since the kidnapping and killing of two French journalists, Ghislaine Dupont and Claude Verlon, in the north-eastern town of Kidal in November 2013.

A video released by Al-Qaeda in the Islamic Maghreb on 10 Jan, 2017 appeared to show Stockly was still alive. The kidnapping of the Colombian nun suggests the reach of the militants is growing. It’s the first incident in southern Mali since the November 2015 attack, which claimed 22 lives at the Radisson Blu hotel in Bamako.

Mali is ranked 32nd on Open Doors’ 2017 World Watch List of the 50 countries in which it is most difficult to be a Christian.
My Children Are Being Tortured’: Jail Officer Releases Four Christians After Jesus Visits Him in Dream

By Suzette Gutierrez-Cachila ([email protected]) Feb 06, 2017 11:00 AM EST 3

Comments

Two pastors and two new believers in the Middle East who were sent to prison for their faith received favor from a jail officer whom Jesus visited four times in a dream.

The two pastors were reportedly giving Bible lessons to the two new believers when police barged into their room and beat them all before taking them into custody.

The new believers had started attending the underground church just six months before the arrest. The pastors were working with Biblias for Mideast, a ministry that operates in the Middle East, Asia and Africa by giving away Bibles, evangelizing the lost and planting churches.

Bibles for Mideast has helped establish 176 underground churches, 103 of which are in the Middle East. These churches have been turned over to the newly formed church called Assembly of Loving God.

The two pastors and the two new believers were charged with “blasphemy of the prophet” and “misguiding Muslims into a false religion.” They were found guilty in a sharia court.

When they were sent to prison, they were again brutally beaten for two days while their hands were tied to a steel bar and into his office.

The four Christian prisoners were baffled by the officer’s kind treatment.

“We thought, he came with a decision of finishing our life of this world. That’s why treating us like this,” one of the pastors said.

The officer came to their cell again in the day in prison, the four Christians were baptized along with the two new believers. The two pastors baptized him along with the two new believers. Then he took them in his car and drove them back to their homes. They encouraged them to continue their work for God and warned them to be careful.

The four believers were thankful to those who prayed for them.

“We thank for those who were fasting and praying for us,” one of the pastors said. “Our Lord Jesus Christ is worthy to be praised. All glory and honour to Him forever and ever!”

In a fresh study of “Bible engagement” released yesterday, LifeWay Research surveyed more than 2,900 Protestant churchgoers and found that while 90 percent “desire to please and honor Jesus in all I do,” only 19 percent personally read the Bible every day.

LifeWay also found that higher levels of Bible engagement were correlated to six actions:

1. Confessing wrongdoings to God and asking forgiveness.
2. Believing in Jesus Christ as the only way to heaven and the number of years one has believed this.
3. Making a decision to obey or follow God with an awareness that choosing to do so might be costly. (63% of churchgoers say they have at least once in the last six months.)
4. Praying for the spiritual status of people they now are not professing Christians.
5. Reading a book about increasing their spiritual growth. (61% of churchgoers say they have in the last year.)
6. Having been discipled or mentored one-on-one by a more spiritually mature Christian. (47% of churchgoers say they have been discipled or mentored.)

“Bible engagement points people toward maturity and maturing Christians have practices that correspond to Bible reading,” said LifeWay Research president Ed Stetzer. “Almost all churchgoers want to honor God, but more than a third indicate obedience is not something they have done when it is costly to them.”

From NephtaliMatta, ministry coordinator at Koinonia House® National Ministries: We recommend this Building Church Leaders training tool—Pastoral ministry is full of moments for which you were never trained. As ministry coordinator for Koinonia House® National Ministries, I’m often surprised by the situations I encounter. I oversee Radical Time Out (“RTD”), a weekly gathering of individuals facing incarceration, those who have been incarcerated, their families, and those in the church who want to serve them.

Carlos, a Christian for 10 years, began attending RTD after serving 20 years in prison for murder. Some months later, on a night when Carlos was unable to attend, Nelson Vargas came to RTD for the first time to share his testimony. God redeemed him from a life of gangs and called him to pastor in Chicago.

Carlos heard about Pastor Nelson’s testimony and called me the next day to reveal new information and ask a question. He said the man he had murdered was Nelson’s son, and he asked if I would be willing to act as an intermediary so he could tell Nelson how sorry he was for what he had done.

I did not know how to respond. There’s no ministry playbook for this. I asked God, How should I approach Nelson and plan their reconciliation meeting? Then I sought wisdom from and prayed with fellow pastors and ministry leaders. God reminded me that I had the Holy Spirit to guide me. I learned that I did not have to be prepared for every possibility to be effective.

Passing on the Baton the Titus 2 Way

Leslie Bennett | Mentoring

To track and field relay athletes, it’s the sound that represents their worst nightmare. Ting. Ting. Ting is the agonizing noise of hearing the baton clash to the ground.

Elite sprinters train to win in a sport where the smallest error causes disastrous defeat. Fundamentally, track and field is about running your own race and training individually to win. Much less attention is given to the skill of passing an aluminum “stick” to a teammate for the relay competition.

In the 2008 Beijing Olympics, the American teams fumbled—not once, but twice—as both the men’s and women’s teams were disqualified after a botched handoff in the 4x100 meter race. A long-time formidable force in the relay competition, Team USA crumbled before our unbelieving eyes. The 2008 team will go down in history as the one who kept USA off the medal stand in the 4x100 meter race for the first time since 1928.

A Relay Race and Discipleship

The parallels of relay racing to Titus 2 discipleship are worth noting. Pass God’s baton of truth to a younger woman who then passes it to the next one coming up behind her, and so it goes lap after lap.

As I approach the age of sixty, I want to publicly admit that I (along with others in my generation) are just as guilty as the 2008 Olympic relay team of failing to pass the baton in a race with much more at stake than gold, silver, or bronze. We trained. We ran. But we didn’t make the handoff.

Some of us didn’t know the truth of biblical womanhood, so we were handicapped.

Some of us were too busy pursuing our own worldly goals and left our sisters to flounder on their own.

There are other reasons, but the end result is the same. We will learn what womanhood means from one of three sources: role models, the church, or the world by default. The culture we live in today is broadcasting promises that turn out to be empty, meaningless, harmful lies. Truth-telling women and churches are pointed to the power of the gospel and the biblical model of older and younger women doing life together as the pattern for an adorned life.

Start Running

Adorned is a book meant to be joyfully shared. The treasures of adorned living are designed to be invested—influencing one life at a time. Envision yourself running with Adorned in hand to:

- Invite a younger or older woman to read with you and share insights face to face.
- Form a multi-generational group to study and meet together.
- Give as a gift to your daughter, sister, mom, friend, pastor’s wife, or women’s ministry leader.
- Embark on the Titus 2 journey by initiating a group on social media.
- Volunteer to lead a group of young women at your church.
- Help plan a women’s retreat or event the Titus 2 way.
- Join the online Facebook community to spur on another.
- Read Adorned, mediate on Titus 2, and you’ll delight again in being created as a beautiful woman. You’ll grasp a renewed vision of God’s grand design for your life. It’s big but not complicated. Immensely gratifying but costly. Bold but not overwhelming through God’s gifts of sustaining grace and Christ-centered friendships.

Why wait? If you’d like to start reading today, download chapter one for free, and register to win one of the five copies of Adorned we’re giving away. Tomorrow, order your copy while it’s still hot off the press at adornedbook.com, or make a gift of any amount to Revive Our Hearts.

My hope, sisters, is that no matter our season or situation, we will be teachable, missional, and intentional women of God. Let’s see a freshen the glory of Jesus in all His beauty and see ourselves as He purposed—women together learning, loving, and living gospel-empowered lives that enhance His attractiveness to the world. Now that’s a truly beautiful sight!

Are you ready to take your stance in the runner’s block? You weren’t meant to sit alone in the spectator’s section. You don’t even have to be an Olympic sprinter to run this race. It’s our race to run—step by step, life to life. The medal stand is within your sight . . . Ready, set, go!

How has your life been impacted by Titus 2 older-to-younger relationships?
